2. For the past several months, the panel has concentrated its efforts on the manned aircraft problem. The A-11 is the principal subject of its next meeting. It is expected that the panel will consider penetration aids and ABM problems in the immediate future. The panel works directly for Mr. Harold Brown, Deputy Director, Research and Engineering, and receives its tasking from him. Appendix 1 lists present panel members. In the past, [ ] participation on the panel has provided a valuable input to the Agency concerning U. S. strategic programs and state of the art information.
